GRANTS / FELLOWSHIPS IN RESEARCH

Current Grant Involvement

VCU Clark-Hill Institute (CHI) for Positive Youth Development Awarded: Jan, 2023
Faculty Fellowship

Title: Loving across difference: Psychoeducation for parenting transracially adopted youth of color
 This competitive application provides 1.5 years of mentorship for VCU faculty seeking to begin or expand programs of research consistent with the CHI mission. Program includes up to $12,000 to support grant development and submission, regular mentoring meetings with a primary CHI faculty sponsor, research design consultation, opportunities to collaborate with secondary mentor datasets. The goal of this project is to explore a conceptual model between white adoptive parent cultural socialization and perception of racial discrimination on the emotional development of racially minoritized adopted youth.

Role: PI ($12,000)

Grant Proposals Under Review and Preparation:

Russell Sage Foundation: Race, Ethnicity, & Immigration Under Preparation

Title: Loving across difference: Parenting transracially adopted youth of color

Role: PI

Completed Grant Involvement:

VCU Presidential Research Quest Fund

Awarded: April 1, 2020-June 2023

Title: Mapping the Life Course of Adoption: Health, Well-Being, and Adoptee Connections in Adulthood

The aims of this study is to begin to (1) map out the experiences of adoption in adulthood and understand the scope of early childhood adversities, cumulative stressors (i.e. birth parent loss, racism) on the physical and mental health, identity and well-being of adopted adults in the U.S. and (2) explore the role of social support (perceived social support and social network characteristics) and participation in adoptee-led groups and spaces on adult outcomes.

Role: PI ($50,000).

VCU College of Humanities & Sciences Catalyst Awards McGinnis (Co-PI)

Award: 02/15/19 – 12/30/20

Title: Weak ties, strong ties & absent ties: Developing mathematical models of college students' social networks to improve mental health and educational outcomes.

The purpose of this mixed methods cross section study is to develop a network survey instrument and collect preliminary data on the social networks of emerging adult undergraduate college students. The aim of the study is to explore the relationship between histories of trauma on personal social networks, and association between characteristics of a person's social networks on mental health and academic outcomes.

Role: Co-PI ($17,000)

Washington University in St. Louis, International Dissertation Award McGinnis (PI) 2014-2015

Title: Mental health and Academic Outcomes among Adolescents in South Korean Orphanages (Dissertation)

Role: PI ($7,500)

Fulbright U.S. Student Award

McGinnis (PI)

Award: 04/13/2013

Title: Mental health and Academic Outcomes among Adolescents in South Korean Orphanages (Dissertation)

Role: PI ($36,000)

The Korea Foundation Fellowship for Field Research

McGinnis (PI)

2013-2014

Title: Mental health and Academic Outcomes among Adolescents in South Korean Orphanages (Dissertation)

Role: PI ($10,000)

CDC R49 CE001510 Center for Violence and Injury Prevention

Jonson-Reid (PI)

2010-2015

Auslander (PI), Center Large RO1 Project

Title: Violence Prevention for Adolescent Girls with Prior Maltreatment

Five-year randomized-controlled trial adapting, implementing, and evaluating a trauma-based intervention, Cognitive Behavioral Intervention for Trauma in Schools (CBITS), for adolescent girls involved in the child welfare system.

Role: Research Assistant, Group Therapist

CDC R49 CE001510 Center for Violence and Injury Prevention

Jonson-Reid (PI)

Spring 2011

Title: Teen Pregnancy Prevention Project

Evaluation of the Teen Pregnancy Prevention project.

Role: Research Assistant

NIH/NCRR (UL1 RR024992) Proctor (PI) Summer-Fall 2010

Title: Dissemination and Implementation Research Core

Research on implementation design, outcomes and other resources to assist scholars interested in implementation science; co-wrote bibliography of implementation science research and practice.

Role: Research Assistant

CDC R49 CE001510 McMillen & Kohl (PI) Spring 2010

Title: Moving Parent Training into Child Welfare Systems

Study to explore how child welfare case managers interact with parents and caregivers around issues of behavior management and receptivity to parent training concepts and strategies.

Role: Research Assistant

WK Kellogg Foundation P0115462 McGinnis (PI) 2005-2009

Title: Promoting Healthy Identity Formation in Adoption

Study to explore how to promote healthy identity formation (racial/ethnic and adoptive) in adoption.

Role: PI ($100,000)

Grant Applications Submitted, Not Funded:

U.S. Department of Health & Human Services Submitted: Spring 2023

Title: ARISE: National Center for Enhanced Post-Adoption Support.

This project will establish ARISE: National Center for Enhanced Post-Adoption Support with the goals of providing expertise an evidence-informed training and technical assistance (T/TA) services to support, build capacity, and sustain post-permanency support programs to States, Tribes and Territories (STTs) and establish a national repository of knowledge and best practices.

Role: Co-PI ($985,000 sub-contract with Case Western Reserve University)

VCU Massey Cancer Center Closing the Gap Summit Pilot Awards Submitted: Aug. 2022

Title: The impact of childhood trauma on the development, treatment, and survivorship among patients with breast cancer and exploration of stress reduction tools to improve outcomes.

The goals of this study is to: (1) determine the prevalence and variation by race among breast cancer patients of exposure to adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) and association with patients' treatment (tolerability and adherence), mood, and experience of survivorship; (2) explore the relationship between ACEs and trauma-related epigenetic changes in the development of breast cancer type, stage of diagnosis, and presence of comorbid medical conditions; (3) explore the association between protective factors (positive coping style, resiliency, mindfulness-based stress reduction) on reducing traumatic stress responses related to ACEs and current mood (anxiety, depression).

Role: Co-PI (Co-PI, Todd Adams, M.D., $75,000)

SAMHSA NCTSI II Grant (SM-20-004) Submitted: Dec. 2021

Title: Treatment and Adaptation Center for Innovation in Child and Family Wellness.

The goal of this grant is to establish a Center bringing together national leaders in early assessment, intervention, and prevention of childhood trauma. The Center would also provide training for pediatrics and community-based multidisciplinary professionals and would expand the implementation of two early intervention and trauma-informed youth drug prevention programs to new populations.

Role: Director of Training (PI, Sunny Shin, $2.8 million).

Jeffress Trust Awards in Interdisciplinary Research McGinnis (PI) Submitted: 12/2/19
Title: Developing Mathematical Models of College Students' Social Ties to Improve Mental Health
 The aim of this study is to follow a sample of college students from each grade cohort (first to fourth-year students) to understand: (1) how social networks of emerging adults in college change over the course of one academic year and factors associated with those changes; (2) how changes in a person's network relate to their mental health; and (3) variations in social networks and mental health across grade cohorts (e.g. first, second, third, and fourth-year students).
Role: PI ($100,000)

NIMH CHIPS Research Training Institute McGinnis (PI) Submitted: 2/15/19
Title: Reducing trauma and externalizing behavior problems through the adolescent years: Meeting the needs of foster, adoptive, & guardianship families.
 The goal of this application to the Child Intervention, Prevention & Services (CHIPS) Research Training Institute was to develop a grant proposal that will be submitted as a K01 award to NIMH. The proposed grant focuses on optimizing existing evidence-based interventions to treat trauma and reduce externalizing behavior problems for adolescents in adopted, foster, or guardianship families in the U.S., and gain substantive training in interventions research and implementation science.

Russell Sage Foundation McGinnis (Co-PI) Submitted: 11/30/18
Title: Disentangling the heterogeneity of ethnic identity achievement among adults of color
 The purpose of this study is to examine factors related to ethnic identity achievement among adults of color raised in same-race and transracial adoptive families in the United States utilizing meta-analytic techniques.
Role: Co-Principal Investigator ($33,800)
